11 Read the Tip Box and answer the questions.

- Which of the underlined words in the sentences in Exercise 10 come before the reason?
- Which of the underlined words in the sentences in Exercise 10 come before the result?

TIP 11

One good way to give more details when you are talking in the Speaking exam is to give reasons. Use as, so and because to help you connect ideas. Notice the differences in Exercise 10 with the structures and order.

12 In pairs, answer the questions using the structures in the Useful Language box to explain your reasons for your answers.

- If you were on a language exchange, would you like to stay with a host family or in a hotel? Why?
- Where do you usually go on holiday? Why?
- What do you like more – holidays with your friends or holidays with your family? Why?

- Which number describes a present state? _____

14 Match the sentences 1–3 in Exercise 13 with the tenses 1 and 2. Then, read the Grammar box to check your answers.

- 1 Present simple _____ 2 Past simple _____

Present simple	Past simple
We use the present simple to talk about states in the present: I'm (not) good at sports.	We use the past simple to talk about an action completed in the past: I decided to go ...
We also use the present simple to talk about habits and things people do regularly: I go to French lessons twice a week.	We also use the past simple for past states that may or may not still be true: Seville was very nice (when I visited it).
Negative: add NOT for states (I'm not good at sports.) and DO NOT for actions (I do not/don't study French.)	Negative: add NOT for states (Seville was not very nice.) and DID NOT for actions (I did not/didn't decide to go.)
Questions: The word order changes for states (Are you good at sports?) and we also add DO for actions (Do you study French?)	Questions: The word order changes for states (Was Seville nice?) and we also add DID for actions (Did you decide to go?)
Note: For regular verbs, the third person (he / she / it) changes from the infinitive form to -s or -(i)es . There are more changes for irregular verbs.	Note: For regular verbs, there is no change to the infinitive form for the past simple. However, there are changes for irregular verbs.

15 Look at the verb form mistakes 1–6 in the summary. Rewrite the verbs, 1–6, correctly.

Anna 1 study French and Spanish at school at the moment. Last summer, she 2 goes to Spain on a language exchange where she 3 stayed with a family in a village.
